Ketchum

The fish feed in shallow water. Use a cork for best results. When the fish bites don't be too anxious to strike him; let him go and pull gradually. Few fish are missed when fishing this way.

The best disposal for getting rid of fish heads and other stomach contents is to bury them in the yard or garden. It keeps away odors and also makes a good fertilizer.

Contrary to belief when the temperature reaches those high marks it is usually cooler out fishing, up rivers and in wide bayous, as there is most always a breeze blowing over the water. Wear long sleeve shirts as a precautionary measure against mosquitoes and other insects.

Yours Truly has been in Georgia for a couple of weeks. The fishing was good and of a different nature. Fishing is done mostly in lakes and ponds and one must think of the old saying "When in Rome do as the Romans do" if you want to catch fish. Listen to the other fellow, it pays off in the long run when fishing in strange territories.

Extra bait means extra fish. When fishing for speckles after finding the fish it pays off to throw some extra bait into the water. This is called "Chumming" and can be done by using crushed crabs, mixed ground fish and even can dog meat. Give it a try next time you go fishing. This holds the fish around. Chumming is also used when catching shrimp with a cast net.

A real low tide is a good time to look for objects in the waters of your favorite fishing spots which cannot be seen on high tides. It may save sheering pins, a broken propeller or damage to your boat. Remember where they are.

J. C. Baxter of Dallas, Texas visited recently at the Bay. J. C. still loves his fishing and never misses a chance to go. J. C. and Ray Kidd are old fishing buddies and go together for a couple of trips while J. C. is here.

Big speckles are still being caught out in the marshes and at Mitchell Key, Le Petit Pass. Freeason, and Chândeaur Island. These spots are located in the Gulf of Mexico out from Bay St. Louis, Gulfport and Pascagoula and a good way, too. It takes a large boat to make this trip as it gets rather rough at times. Local fishermen go to these places and it really takes an overnight trip to have a successful catch of fish. The speckles run as large as five pounds. At Chândeaur Island there is no telling what you might catch.

The softball league is now in its second round and enthusiasm is running high as to who the winners will be. Each team consists of all good players and some swell games can be looked forward to.

Pictures of sportsmen used in this column are picked at random. One picture is used each week so if yours doesn't appear right away there will be another week. Thanks for your cooperation.

Jerome Carver who has laid off fishing for a while says he might start back again. The water is fine and the fish are biting, buddy.

The days are getting longer all the time. Leaving at 4 o'clock in the afternoon you still can get in 4 hours of fishing. That's plenty of time to catch a mess of fish most anywhere.

When boiling shrimp and crabs, if you like them well seasoned put in the water most everything in the kitchen but the cooking stove. Boil until they turn red. Boiling too long makes them taste mealy and tough. Leave them in the water until they cool. If the shell

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. — Ten firms have submitted proposals to the NASA-Marshall Space Flight Center here for preliminary design study of the Optical Technology Satellite being considered as part of the Apollo Extension System.

Two contracts are expected to be awarded for parallel studies. The objective of the proposed OTS program is to further advance the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's capability in space optics technology by performing a number of engineering and scientific experiments in the space environment. The program is under NASA's Office of Advanced Research and Technology.

The selected contractors will be required to conduct a review of existing conceptual designs for the technical feasibility and justification for the performance in space of experiments now being considered. The contractor will then create a conceptual design with emphasis on reliable performance of on-board experiments.

In phase two, there will be performed a conceptual design study of the OTS subsystem in sufficient detail to establish a sound base for overall system preliminary design. The experiments to be considered in the study include:

1. Determination of the effects of the space environments on the eventual design of large space telescopes. Such information is needed to design large telescopes for astronomy purposes and optical antennas for optical laser communication;
2. The effect of the aerospace environment on various optical components and systems, such as evaluation of components and consideration of thermo problems, isolation from vibration, deterioration of quality of components and background radiation and atmospheric effects on optical transmission;
3. Perform secondary experiments compatible with the primary.

The companies submitting proposals with proposed subcontractors, if any, listed in parenthesis are: Grumman Aircraft Engineering Corp. (Electro-Optical Corp., American Optical Co.); Raytheon Space and Information Systems Division, (Diffraction Ltd. Inc., AVCO); Chrysler Corporation, Space Division, (Kollsman Instrument Corp., Sylvania Electric Products); North American Aviation, &ID, (Peckes Division of American Optical); Martin-Marietta Corp., Baltimore Division, (IBM, American Optical Co., A. HUNTSVILLE, Ala. — The Marshall Space Flight Center, largest of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, field installations, observed its fifth anniversary July 1.

MSFC rounds out the fiscal year, and the anniversary, with 7,650 employees earning about $35 million annually. It also has 14,800 contractor employees working in Huntsville in direct support of the huge Saturn space vehicle development programs.

President Dwight Eisenhower issued an Executive Order March 15, 1960, which formally named the Huntsville facility in honor of the late Gen. George C. Marshall. The President came to Huntsville Sept. 8, 1960, to dedicate the Center.

The main work of the Center has been the Saturn family of heavy space vehicles. In the five years, nine Saturn I vehicles have been launched successfully in nine attempts. The tenth and final vehicle is now on the pad at Cape Kennedy.

The more powerful Saturn IB and Saturn V vehicles are in preparation — the first Saturn IB to be fired in 1968 and the first Saturn V in 1967. The Saturn V moon rocket is expected to send three astronauts to the moon in the Center's ninth year — 1969.

In addition to its Saturn work, Center personnel in this period also wrote successful conclusions to the Juno II and Mercury-Redstone vehicle programs. The latter rocket launched the first American, Alan Shepherd, into space in 1961.

VOTING RIGHTS BILL SURE TO PASS HOUSE SAYS COLMER

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Congressman Wm. M. Colmer (D-Miss.) today said:

The streamlined Rules Committee of the House has reported the so-called voting rights bill to the floor of the House by a vote of 11 to 4. There is no question about the House passing the bill after some two or three days of debate and consideration. The Senate has already passed a bill by a lopsided vote of 77 to 19.

In the emotional hysteria now prevailing here in Washington as a result of the political propaganda, there are only two people who could prevent the passage of a bill in the House — President Johnson and King Martin Luther.

The question involved is whether it will be the Administration bill or the so-called Ford-McCulloch (Republican) version. While both bills are objectionable and repugnant to the Constitution of the United States, there is also no question but that the Republican version is less objectionable and repugnant.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Sunday	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday	Saturday
Job 22:21-30	Psalms 36:1-12	Jeremiah 17:1-10	Zachariah 8:9-17	Matthew 11:25-30	Jude 1:17-25	Romans 14:1-19

Who would guess that just out of sight there's a six-lane turnpike! Thousands of people drive past this peaceful place every day, and never know it exists. Occasionally, through a break in the sheltering trees, someone glimpses shining water and green pastureland in the distance... then the road curves, and the lovely scene is forgotten.

Many travellers hurry along life's road with empty hearts and unseeing eyes, never realizing what the transforming beauty of the Christian faith could mean to them. Because they always expect to find happiness around the next bend, they overlook the still waters of spiritual peace.

In the quiet, hallowed atmosphere of the Church, God answers man's deepest needs. Through prayer and worship, our souls are strengthened and restored. And when we continue our journey, we are not alone. God is with us.

COMPLETE INFO ON EXCISE TAXES RECENTLY REPEALED

The repeal of many Federal Excise Taxes became effective at midnight, June 21, 1965. Excise taxes which ceased to exist on all business conducted after June 21, 1965 include all of the retailers' excise taxes such as the tax on jewelry, cosmetics, furs, luggage. The retailers' excise tax on diesel and special motor fuels will remain in effect, however.

Other taxes repealed effective the same date include the manufacturers' excise tax on refrigerators, self contained air conditioners, electric, gas and oil appliances, radio and television sets, phonographs and records, musical instruments, playing cards, sporting goods (except fishing equipment), photographic equipment, business machines and mechanical pens, pencils and lighters.

The manufacturers' excise tax on passenger automobiles was reduced from ten percent to seven percent, effective on June 22, 1965. Further reductions of this tax will become effective on each January 1st through January 1, 1969. Taxes which are repealed, effective July 1, 1965, are the tax on safe deposit boxes, and occupational taxes on coin operated amusement devices, bowling alleys, pool tables, etc. Where the tax has already been paid for the new fiscal year on these devices, a refund will be automatic and no claim is necessary.

The tax on admissions and cabarets will remain in effect until noon on December 31, 1965, after which time their repeal will become effective. Many other tax repeals and reductions will become effective on January 1, 1966. Among these are the taxes on club dues, certain communications services, certain documentary stamp taxes, and electric light bulbs.

Taxes on diesel and special motor fuels, gasoline, tires and tread rubber, firearms, fishing equipment, trucks and buses and truck trailers, as well as parts and accessories for trucks and buses will remain unchanged by the Excise Tax Reduction Act. Also unaffected by the act are taxes on transportation of persons by air, highway use tax, fire arms tax, all special regulatory taxes and taxes on alcoholic beverages.

Floor stock tax refunds will be due to dealers handling items on which the manufacturers' excise tax has been paid on items which remained in inventory on June 22, 1965. Dealers who are affected should take a detailed inventory of tax paid items as of such date and submit this inventory to their suppliers for refund. Refunds to the dealers will not be made directly by the Internal Revenue Service but will not be made to the manufacturer who actually paid the tax. Such refunds will be made on the basis of inventories submitted to manufacturers by dealers. Serial, stock or model numbers of tax paid items should be shown on the inventory.

Refunds may also be made to manufacturers of passenger automobiles and self contained air conditioners which were sold to customers after May 14, 1965 and before June 22, 1965, provided they show that the amount of the tax has been refunded to the customers.

In the case of agreements entered into with the District Director by the supplier under the provisions of section 6011(c) of the Internal Revenue Code, the supplier may make claim for refund on Form 843 or claim credit on final Form 720. A detailed inventory of taxable merchandise in the hands of each retailer covered should be made as of the start of business on June 22, 1965.

This same procedure may be used by retailers who have secured the permission of the District Director and who have prepaid the tax on their inventory under the provisions of Revenue Ruling 56-261, 1956-1 CB 556.

For further information concerning the provisions of the Excise Tax Reduction Act, interested persons should call or write their local Internal Revenue Office.

LOCAL HOSPITAL AUXILIARY MEMBERS ATTEND CONVENTION

The 14th annual convention of the Mississippi Hospital Council on Auxiliaries was held in Jackson June 24 with more than 25 hospital auxiliaries represented and 72 members in attendance.

An informative program was presented and some of the recent special life saving equipment for hospital use was displayed and explained.

The scrap book displayed by Hancock General Hospital, Auxiliary with Mrs. Ben Hille Sr. as chairman, won first prize in competition with auxiliaries from hospitals with 100 beds or less.

Attending from the local Auxiliary were Mrs. A. M. Ortiz, president; Mrs. Marion Oestad, vice president; Mrs. Jules Toledano, director; Mrs. Joseph Viguerie, treasurer; and Tom Logue, Hospital Administrator.

COST OF LIVING UP DURING MAY

WASHINGTON — Living costs advanced three-tenths of one percent in May for the second straight month, the Labor Department reported.

The rise lifted its index of consumer prices to 109.8, a new high. This was 1.7 per cent higher than a year ago.

The index reading means that consumer goods which could be bought for $10 in the 1957-59 period now cost $10.98.

The consecutive monthly increases of three-tenths of one percent in April and May were the first such occurrence since mid-1963.

And, officials said, preliminary indications are that the index rose further in June. The June figures will not be compiled for several weeks.

An official of the Bureau of Labor Statistics said about half the May increase could be traced to higher prices for food.

Meat and fruit vegetables registered particularly sharp price rises. Unfavorable weather was a major factor in the higher cost of fresh vegetables. Rising demand and short supplies boosted prices of beef, veal, pork, and lamb.

YARBOROUGH DEATH AT BILOXI

Benjamin YARBOROUGH, 74, brother of Elijah YARBOROUGH, Lakeshore, died Wednesday morning at Howard Memorial Hospital, Biloxi.

A native of Lakeshore, he had resided in Biloxi for the past 59 years.

He is also survived by two sons, Benjamin Jr., and Floyd, both of Biloxi; 16 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at 10 a.m. today from Bradford O'Keefe Funeral Home with interment in Biloxi.

INGALLS CONTRACT OFFICIAL

WASHINGTON — The Secretary of Commerce announced this week the approval by that office of a $33 million contract to Ingalls Shipbuilding Corp. for construction of five automated cargo liners for Delta Steamship Lines of New Orleans.

The Federal Maritime Administration approved the new contract last week, but a final technical review delayed formal acceptance of the contract until today.

The total contract price for the five vessels is $32,470,900.

The contract calls for delivery of the first vessel within 610 days, or in September, 1967, said Capt. John W. Clark, president of Delta Line.

The last of the five is scheduled for delivery in mid-1968.

The vessels, termed the "Delta class," will be capable of speeds in excess of 20 knots, Clark said, and will be extensively automated.

The vessels will be placed in service on Delta's trade route between U. S. Gulf ports and East Coast ports of South America.

They also will be used on the company's route to West Africa.

BARBECUE THE SAFE WAY

If you plan to stay at home for a back yard cookout or barbecue, remember you are dealing with an open fire that must be treated carefully.

If you are using a portable grill, be sure it is sturdy and difficult to tip over accidentally. Set your grill up far enough away from anything that might catch fire from a flying spark. Keep children away from the grill.

You will need a long-handled spatula, tongs and a pot holder for handling food and utensils. The National Safety Council says the safest fire starter is wood shavings scattered around the charcoal and lighted with a long wick, such as a common drinking straw or rolled piece of newspaper.

If you use one of the special liquid, chemical and solid-pellet starters available, follow label directions. Never add liquid starter after a fire has begun. Don't substitute other flammable liquids such as gasoline or alcohol as a fire starter.

Check an electrical fire igniter for UL (Underwriters' Laboratories) label. Disconnect or turn off the igniter as soon as you remove it from the fire. Place it to cool away from children, pets or anything it might set fire to.

If it starts raining during the cooking time, don't think you can safely move your lighted grill to a porch, garage, or other enclosed area. The only safe way to move to such an area is to be sure it is well ventilated or has a vent that carries the charcoal's poisonous fumes and smoke directly outside.

If you place coals in a bucket of water or put out the fire and plan to use the coals again, spread

"Now, your state is states to benefit states act as the food stamp plays its part in against poverty."

"The food stamp program is our efficient food stamping system to provide our abundance of food need, opening up our farmers. The program generates food retail food sales, antly, participants in a dignified and manner."

The food stamp program is administered by the USDA's Consumer and Service and the Welfare of Public Welfare.

If frozen chicken is to be transported, such as for use on a picnic, wrap it carefully in several layers of newspapers to prolong the thawing or place the chicken in a cooler chest that will maintain a temperature of 50 degrees or lower. Either method will help extend the thawing time from 3 to 4 hours.

FROZEN FIELD CHICKEN
Fried chicken has long been a favorite for an out door picnic or any other picnic if you picnic menu includes fried chicken, try freezing the cooked pieces, as a way to keep the chicken thoroughly cold on the way to the picnic grounds and until you are ready to eat it.

To freeze fried chicken, refrigerate the pieces immediately after frying until they are thoroughly chilled. Then wrap in freezer paper and freeze. Remember fried chicken will sour if it is frozen while still hot.

Check an electrical fire igniter for UL (Underwriters' Laboratories) label. Disconnect or turn off the igniter as soon as you remove it from the fire. Place it to cool away from children, pets or anything it might set fire to.
